FÜR WIRTSCHAFTSFORSCHUNG (RWI)

APPLICATION DEADLINE

APRIL 15TH 2016

Up to eight scholarships of 1300 Euro per month are available for outstanding graduate students wishing to obtain a PhD in any area of economics. There is no tuition fee. The 3-year structured program builds on the combined expertise of three economics departments and one of Germany's leading economic research institutes. Advanced coursework, close guidance, a cooperative learning environment, and an extensive research network and infrastructure are geared to support our students in conducting first-rate research and our graduates in obtaining excellent positions in academia and the private sector.
